

Adam Hays III

Born and raised in central Ohio, Adam Hays III is one of the top whitetail hunters in the country. At 52 years of age, Adam just completed his 38th season bowhunting. Harvesting over 3 dozen P&Y class whitetails with 10 surpassing the 170" mark and his 4 biggest bucks cracking the coveted 200", Adam's credentials in the whitetail woods speak volumes.

In it's 5th season, the Team200 TV show that Adam owns and produces is one of the top programs available on the Pursuit Channel and Waypoint TV. With a focus on hunting the most mature animals an area has to offer, Team200 also strives to teach it's loyal followers how to be consistently successful on the biggest whitetails in the country.

Adam has also continued the work of the late Jeff Murray and the Deer Hunters Moonguide. After following the MoonGuide for nearly 2 decades, Adam credits this lunar hunting tool for his success on giant whitetails and has brought the company mainstream in the past 5 years and will be launching the Moonguide app in 2019.
